

Regarding Low Power FM (LPFM) services taking priority over translator services on FM radio, I would like to ask that this not be approved. I listen to K-LOVE, which is a station broadcast on an FM translator, and would be at quite a loss if this positive, encouraging part of the background of much of my day was caused to be removed by this new policy. This is a station which has had a positive impact on many communities, both for Christians and others who love to listen to music which is not profane, talk and news which is appropriate even for the young children in the room, and the lack of offensive advertising. Please do not put this barrier in the way of this great radio station.
